

From: Ratchye, Jane
Sent: Wednesday, October 15, 2003 8:02 AM
To: Dabbs, Paul
Subject: water plan

In the draft California Water Plan Update 2003, Chapter 4 on the SF Bay Area, sidebar on page 4-28, BAWUA is referred to as the Bay Area Water Agencies Association. It is the Bay Area Water Users Association. However, more importantly, a new agency that will essentially replace BAWUA by the end of 2003 is the Bay Area Water Supply and Conservation Agency, or BAWSCA. BAWSCA was created as a result of the legislature and governor enacting AB 2058 in September 2002.

Jane Ratchye
Senior Resource Planner
City of Palo Alto Utilities